Press release

The I-Total® Brand comes from our experience in the gift items market. The intention, with this brand, is to convey a fun and current experience to users , through ever new, fresh, lively and innovative products, with which users can express themselves in an original way!

iDrink was born from the research to create useful and functional products that produce a lower environmental impact and that help people to pollute less and less, through available, desirable and long-lasting products.
iDrink's goal is to get people used to using reusable products rather than single-use items, both because they are more convenient and because they are more satisfying to use.
